Sold

Year : 2016

Desc. : The main part of this work is the fragment of a trumpet (a boss). That is all that has been left of the instrument. This part that has been saved was the part that stimulated to create a steam machine, as curved tubes and valves perfectly fit for this. Other parts only filled the central part and let create a machine the way it looks now. I pay a lot of attention to a background and frames in my works. I think it supplements the work and gives it the image of authenticity, as, for example, the holes left by woodworm, patina and fittings. Thus this work gains the shade of an old and weird model in the background crumbled of time. The main details: A brass trumpet (boss) fragment; A Swedish XX age brass container; The big wheel (made of a ?Singer? sewing machine); The small wheel (made of the brass cannon model); A copper cup to soak flowers. Style : Strange Art / Tech. : mixed

Sold

Year : 2017

Desc. : This piece of art was created quite accidentally. I was assembling the sculpture at my studio and while looking for a proper part, I saw an old sewing machine corps cover dropped a long time ago. I've found another one identical cover, mixed up with each other in my minds and I have already imagined the result of the future work. The idea of combining the submarine and the sea resident sperm whale was in my mind because they looked somehow similar to me. I had to use my imagination to make this attractive bathyscaphe and sperm whale hybrid. Used details: Corps of sperm whale - submarine corps - two sewing machine corps covers. The head - aluminum cup. The tail - vacuum cleaner nozzle and part of the bicycle seat. The periscope - shower hose brass nozzle and spotlight body with magnifying glass. Dimensions: Length - 60cm Width - 11cm Height - 20cm Weight - 2500g This work is finished using aerosol and acrylic paint.

Year : 2017

Desc. : The emergence of this sculpture was initiated by the old scissors which was received from the aunt to chop the fins. Their curved shape fated this scissors to become hawthorn. Later everything self-assured. Again everything turned into the feeling as if I'm creating the animation movie character. That's the way it goes by itself, as I'm trying to represent each animal with unusual attributes and shapes. Then they become interesting, even funny, but it's exactly my wish and my purpose ? to cause curiosity in people and reward a smile. I think that a good dose of humour haven't hurt anyone until now. Some time ago I had created a walrus but it was much smaller. It completely surpassed my expectations. That's a real diving champion. The main details: Body is an aluminium pot, the corp of vacuum cleaner, aluminium plate, three tablespoons, a motor boat engine screw, aluminium wire; Fins ? aluminium boat bows.

I didn't try to copy the exact proportions of the body, I wanted to make it as funny animated cartoon character or something like that and my fantasies became reality. "A radio roadster"

Size (HxW) : 30x35 cm

Style : Strange Art / Tech. : mixed

Theme : Car / Category : Sculpture

Sold

Year : 2016

Desc. : I have found the corps of an old Russian radio receiver in an old parent's attic. The idea what to do with it came up not at once, therefore, for some time it was thrown to the corner. Probably everything has its time? One day I took it to the daylight, turned up and then I came up with the idea to make a car ? old, threadbare, rusty vintage roadster. As far as the corps is made of a real radio I wanted to match everything to such a topic. I came up with the idea that a sitting driver listening to a radio station M-1 would perfectly fit, moreover, that is one of my favourite radio stations, therefore, I got down to carry out the idea. The main details: The corps is a Russian radio receiver of 1952, aluminum tray, a tank part dedicated to investigate, a wooden handle of an umbrella, ventilation grill of a tractor and car bends; Wheels are taken out of a childish carriage; A driver has been made by gluing a simulation; A seat of a driver has been made of a female slipper sole.

"A radio receiver ?Bobbin?"

Size (HxWxP) : 50x20x15 cm

Style : Strange Art / Tech. : mixed

Theme : Not figurative / Category : Sculpture

Sold

Desc. : I have acquired an old but well-working radio receiver in a flea market. I liked its colour and shape, therefore, I have decided to make a radio receiver in a ?steampunk? style. For me personally it seemed that it lacks legs, therefore, I applied them taking them out of the Russian kettle. I exfoliated the nickel layer before until I saw brass ? the latter colour fit more here. I replaced a radio receiver cardboard spine into a brass sheet which I mounted a ventilation equipment made of the corps of the clock and a strainer to. I put another speaker out additionally, that speaker was mounted into a brass cruet which was dedicated to soak the flowers. The old sound and wave moderators have been changed into the new ones. Furniture handles perfectly fit for this. I have mounted a mincer handle into the left side of the machine and it gave the corps additional charm. As far as a radio receiver did not have a title I have provided it and engraved it in a plate. That is the title of an old ?Bobbin? sewing machine. Dimensions: 50×20 cm.
